SAI (Strategically Aware Investing)

SAI (Strategically Aware Investing) is an innovative stock selection method combining financial criteria and strategic research: in addition to conventional ESG (Environmental, Social and Governance) criteria, we consider companies' innovation capacity and responsiveness, we analyse Megatrends as an element of corporate strategy contextualisation and cross-check these data against the financial analysis.

The E, S and G factors are combined with a company's innovation capacity and adaptability & responsiveness to form what we call the 5 factors.

Megatrends are the secular global trends that shape today's and especially tomorrow's world. We have identified ten Megatrends, ranging from environmental (such as climate change) to social ones (such as growing urbanisation).

We analyse the impact of these 5 factors and of these trends on business development.
