Quarterly fund commentary

Credit markets generated strong performance in the quarter ending June 2016. Modest global growth and supportive central policy drove the credit markets until the UK referendum on EU membership resulted in a "Leave" vote late in June. The fund benefitted from increased risk exposure portfolio managers added to high yield and emerging markets late in February as valuations reached attractive levels. Markets rallied going into the UK referendum, and, given tightened spread levels, portfolio managers reduced risk levels by selling cash securities and adding synthetic hedge investments going into the vote. Following the quick sell-off following the surprise result, portfolio managers removed synthetic high yield hedges and added to fundamentally sound cash investments in the belief that the downdraft was overdone. Looking ahead, the uncertainty of Brexit will no doubt hurt the outlook for growth not only in the UK, but also in Europe more broadly and, to a lesser extent, across the globe. While emerging markets face long term headwinds from elevated debt levels, we believe ongoing opportunities exist. Across credit markets, a concerted focus on solid issuer fundamentals is critical at this juncture with flexibility to adjust exposures to fluctuating technicals and valuations.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund will invest in derivatives (complex instruments) which will be leveraged and which may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund's performance may be adversely affected by variations in the exchange rates between the base currency of the fund and the currencies in which the investments are made. As a large portion of the fund is invested in less developed countries, you should be prepared to accept significantly large fluctuations of the value of the fund. The fund may hold a significant amount of debt instruments which are of lower credit quality and may result in large fluctuations of the value of the fund. The risks described herein are the fund specific material risks. For more information please consult the current fund and share class specific Key Investor Information Document (KIID) and for a complete set of risks the current prospectus.

Past performance is not a guide to future returns. Where Invesco has expressed views and opinions, these may change. If investors are unsure if this product is suitable for them, they should seek advice from a financial adviser. The 12 month high/low price figure calculation is taking the complete last 12 months into account including non-pricing days. The first day of the calculation period might be a non-pricing day with the highest or lowest valid price in the last 12 months. On non-pricing days, the price of the previous pricing-day is utilised to calculate the 12 month high/low price figure. The distribution and the offering of the fund or its share classes in certain jurisdictions may be restricted by law. The forecasts and market outlook presented in this material reflect subjective judgments and assumptions of the investment manager or its delegate and unexpected events may occur. There can be no assurance that developments will transpire as forecasted in this presentation. Where securities are mentioned in this document they do not necessarily represent a specific portfolio holding and do not constitute a recommendation to purchase, hold or sell. The ongoing charges figure is based on annualised expenses for the period ending 31/08/2015. This figure may vary from year to year. It excludes portfolio transaction costs except in the case of an entry or exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling shares/units in another fund. The fund yields shown are expressed as a % per annum of the current NAV of the fund. They are an estimate for the next 12 months, assuming that the fund's portfolio remains unchanged and there are no defaults or deferrals of coupon payments or capital repayments. Cash income is estimated coupons from bonds. The gross current yield is an indication of the expected cash income over the next 12 months. The gross redemption yield is a longer-term picture indicating expected annual total return. This means that in addition to expected cash income, it includes the amortised annual value of unrealised capital gains or losses of bond holdings currently held by the fund, calculated with reference to their current market price and expected redemption value made upon maturity of the bonds. Neither of the yields is guaranteed. Nor do they reflect the impact of the ongoing charges, the portfolio transaction costs or the entry charge of the fund. Investors may be subject to tax on distributions. Subscriptions of shares are only accepted on the basis of the most up to date legal offering documents. The legal offering documents (fund & share class specific Key Investor Information Document, prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports, articles and trustee deed) are available free of charge with your local Invesco representative or on our website www.invescoeurope.com.
