Quarterly fund commentary

Asia ex Japan equities finished the fourth quarter lower. While trade tensions between the US and China had an overall dampening effect over investor sentiment in North Asia, India and some ASEAN markets benefited from declining oil prices and a flat dollar which helped deliver positive returns. Economic activity in other major economies remained stable despite showing some signs of moderation. In China, for example, real GDP growth is on track to hit its target of around 6.5% while the government has introduced several support measures to address near-term pressures on the economy. India's multi-year structural growth story remained intact, backed by favourable demographics, reforms in financial inclusion and digitalization and a boost in rural consumption. Elsewhere in Asia, private consumption continued to hold up well thanks to vibrant labour markets. In Q4, Asian USD bond markets continued to be affected by the Federal Reserve's comments on the US economy and its projection of future interest rate hikes. In terms of investment strategy, we remained favourable to Asian equities. Our largest equity exposure continued to be the Greater China region where we have been finding ample investment opportunities in companies that enjoy robust business models and sustainable cash flows. In fixed income, we favour Chinese companies likely to benefit from the government's recently announced "quasi-QE" policies.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The Fund may invest in a dynamic way across assets/asset classes, which may result in periodic changes in the risk profile, underperformance and/or higher transaction costs. As a large portion of the fund is invested in less developed countries, you should be prepared to accept significantly large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund may invest in contingent convertible bonds which may result in significant risk of capital loss based on certain trigger events. Investments in debt instruments which are of lower credit quality may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund.
