Quarterly fund commentary

Asia Pacific ex Japan equity markets rallied in Q1, while bonds rose to a lesser extent. Asian equity markets benefited from the strengthening of macroeconomic data in a number of countries. Greater China equity markets led markets higher as economic indicators showed conditions had improved, while earnings were also favourable. In Australia, returns were driven by better-than-expected earnings. In terms of sector performance, IT was the biggest gainer, followed by real estate and consumer discretionary. All other sectors achieved positive returns, although less economically sensitive sectors, such as telecoms and consumer staples lagged. We maintained our tilt towards high dividend-paying Asian equities given current valuation levels remain attractive, relative to history. In equities, we continue to have most exposure to China. In fixed income, the majority of bonds held were US dollar-denominated, with Chinese bonds remaining an area of high conviction.
