Quarterly fund commentary

Asia ex Japan equity markets enjoyed a broad-based rally in Q1. In China, confidence in the economy continued to improve, while earnings were also favourable. Hong Kong's equity market was buoyed by a rally in financials and real estate stocks. In Taiwan, strong semiconductor sales and positive economic indicators helped drive returns. In South Korea, positive earnings revisions combined with the appreciation of the Korean won to help lift share prices. In India, better-than-expected 4Q GDP growth eased concerns over the potential impact of demonetisation. In ASEAN, Singapore was the best performing equity market on the back of capital inflows, while other markets lagged the broader region given concerns over their sensitivity to potential changes in US trade policy. In terms of sector performance, the real estate and IT sectors led, while consumer staples and healthcare lagged. Our investment strategy is to focus on fundamentals through our bottom-up approach to stock selection, favouring companies with sustainable leadership and competitive advantages. In terms of country positioning, we believe the fund is well-balanced relative to reference index, except for a tilt towards opportunities in China.
