Quarterly fund commentary

In the third quarter, our strategy of underweighting versus the benchmark Asian local currencies, countries which ran current account deficits and commodities sectors helped mitigate downside risk to the fund. We actively use an "all-weather" investment style. We promptly cut risk by increasing cash holding in August right after China changed its Renminbi Foreign exchange regime to be more market driven as we correctly predicted that the change would lead to rising global volatilities. In September, we reduced cash by buying USD denominated corporate and sovereign bonds after the US Federal Reserve had decided not to hike interest rates and the Chinese RMB exchange rates had shown signs of stabilisation. Looking ahead, we see attractive values in selective USD denominated Chinese corporate bonds. Weak import prices of commodities have been raising China trade surpluses. The continuing interest rate cuts in China in our view help reduce corporate refinancing risk. Residential property sales and consumption are also rebounding strongly. After their price plunges in August, the yields of USD denominated sovereign and quasi-sovereign bonds of Indonesia have risen to what we view as attractive levels.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. As a large portion of the fund is invested in less developed countries, you should be prepared to accept significantly large fluctuations of the value of the fund. The risks described herein are the fund specific material risks. For more information please consult the current fund and share class specific Key Investor Information Document (KIID) and for a complete set of risks the current prospectus. If you are unsure of any of these risks please contact your advisor.

Past performance is not a guide to future returns. Where Invesco has expressed views and opinions, these may change. If investors are unsure if this product is suitable for them, they should seek advice from a financial adviser. The 12 month high/low price figure calculation is taking the complete last 12 months into account including non-pricing days. The first day of the calculation period might be a non-pricing day with the highest or lowest valid price in the last 12 months. On non-pricing days, the price of the previous pricing-day is utilised to calculate the 12 month high/low price figure. The distribution and the offering of the fund or its share classes in certain jurisdictions may be restricted by law. The forecasts and market outlook presented in this material reflect subjective judgments and assumptions of the investment manager or its delegate and unexpected events may occur. There can be no assurance that developments will transpire as forecasted in this presentation. Where securities are mentioned in this document they do not necessarily represent a specific portfolio holding and do not constitute a recommendation to purchase, hold or sell. The ongoing charges figure is based on annualised expenses for the period ending 31/08/2014. This figure may vary from year to year. It excludes portfolio transaction costs except in the case of an entry or exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling shares/units in another fund. Please refer to the most up to date relevant fund and share class-specific Key Investor Information Document for more information on our funds. Further information on our products is available using the contact details shown. The yields shown are expressed as a % per annum of the current NAV of the fund. They are an estimate for the next 12 months, assuming that the fund's portfolio remains unchanged and there are no defaults or deferrals of coupon payments or capital repayments. Cash income is estimated coupons from bonds. The gross current yield is an indication of the expected cash income over the next 12 months. The estimated gross redemption yield is a longer-term picture indicating expected annual total return. This means that in addition to expected cash income, it includes the amortised annual value of unrealised capital gains or losses of bond holdings currently held by the fund, calculated with reference to their current market price and expected redemption value made upon maturity of the bonds. Neither of the yields is guaranteed. Nor do they reflect the fund charges or the entry charge of the fund. Investors may be subject to tax on distributions.
