Quarterly fund commentary

Emerging European equity markets delivered positive returns during the fourth quarter. With their economies growing at a healthy pace, equity gains were led by Poland, Hungary and Czech Republic. By comparison, Russia's equity market failed to rally despite a favourable backdrop of lower interest rates and higher oil prices. With the annual inflation rate dropping to 2.7%, the Bank of Russia cut its policy rate by 50 basis points to 7.75% in December. The agreement by Russia and other key oil supplying countries to extend their production cuts to end-2018 provided support to Brent crude prices. The latter reached its highest level since 2015. The fund is positioned to benefit from long-term growth opportunities in a region that we believe is undervalued by the market due to geopolitical tensions. The fund invests in Russia, Poland and other countries across the region. We seek to hold stakes in companies that we believe are well-run and have market positions that should allow them to deliver a high level of return on invested capital. The fund's diversified approach is reflected in sector positioning, which is spread across a broad variety of industries.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. The Fund may invest directly in Russia, which can involve significant risks to capital. As a large portion of the fund is invested in less developed countries, you should be prepared to accept significantly large fluctuations of the value of the fund. The fund invests in a limited number of holdings and is less diversified, and therefore this may result in large fluctuations of the value of the fund.

Important Information

¹The minimum investment amounts are: EUR 500 / USD 650 / GBP 400 / CHF 650 / SEK 4,500. Please contact us or refer to the most up to date Prospectus for details of minimum investment amounts in other currencies.
