Quarterly fund commentary

Emerging markets (EM) corporate bonds returned 0.68% for the quarter, as measured by the J.P. Morgan CEMBI Broad Diversified Index. EM corporate spreads tightened 9 bps to end the quarter at 232 bps. Returns were positive across all regions led by African and Latin America. Returns were broadly positive across sectors led by Metals & Mining and Oil & Gas, while Consumer lagged. Emerging Markets posted another quarter of positive total returns, amid low volatility in developed markets rates and stable to improving prices across a variety of commodities. Adding to those supportive elements were continued inflows into EM, and lighter new issuance at the end of the year. While the current backdrop of stable global growth, low inflation, and accommodative financial conditions are supportive of EM asset prices there have been an increase in idiosyncratic stories; especially from the Middle East. Recent moves higher in commodity prices are also supportive of EM markets. While the macro backdrop remains supportive for EM we are monitoring geopolitical events in the Middle East, NAFTA negotiations, and upcoming elections in Latin America closely. We continue to see supportive global financial conditions in spite of the Fed beginning to unwind its balance sheet.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund will invest in derivatives (complex instruments) which will result in the fund being leveraged and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund may invest in distressed securities which carry a significant risk of capital loss. As a large portion of the fund is invested in less developed countries, you should be prepared to accept significantly large fluctuations of the value of the fund. The fund may hold a large amount of debt instruments which are of lower credit quality and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund.
