Quarterly fund commentary

Euro bond markets broadly delivered negative total returns during the fourth quarter despite finishing the year strongly. Corporate bonds tended to outperform their government counterparts. Politics dominated a quarter that saw Donald Trump voted the next US President, concerns around a 'Hard Brexit' grew and an Italian constitutional referendum resulted in the government-supported constitutional reforms being widely rejected. Inflation expectations also rose primarily due to a stabilisation of oil prices whilst there was also an increasing sense within the market that monetary policy has reached the limits of its efficacy. In their last meeting of 2016, the European Central Bank (ECB) announced a scaling back of its quantitative easing programme. From April 2017 the ECB will reduce the amount of monthly purchases made through the programme by €20bn. The programme will however be extended to December 2017. The fund is primarily invested in a diversified portfolio of euro sovereign and investment grade corporate bonds. We are predominantly neutral European peripheral government bonds and instead focusing on relative value with a preference for Spain over Italy. We believe ECB policy will remain supportive and are constructive on European investment grade bonds with a preference for BBB rated bonds; whilst we have selective exposure to subordinated financials issued by core European banks.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund will invest in derivatives (complex instruments) which will result in the fund being leveraged and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund may hold a large amount of debt instruments which are of lower credit quality and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The risks described herein are the fund specific material risks. For more information please consult the current fund and share class specific Key Investor Information Document (KIID) and for a complete set of risks the current prospectus.

The forecasts and market outlook presented in this material reflect subjective judgments and assumptions of the investment manager or its delegate and unexpected events may occur. There can be no assurance that developments will transpire as forecasted in this presentation. Where securities are mentioned in this document they do not necessarily represent a specific portfolio holding and do not constitute a recommendation to purchase, hold or sell. The ongoing charges figure is based on annualised expenses for the period ending 31/08/2015. This figure may vary from year to year. It excludes portfolio transaction costs except in the case of an entry or exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling shares/units in another fund. The yields shown are expressed as a % per annum of the current NAV of the fund. They are an estimate for the next 12 months, assuming that the fund's portfolio remains unchanged and there are no defaults or deferrals of coupon payments or capital repayments. Cash income is estimated coupons from bonds. The gross current yield is an indication of the expected cash income over the next 12 months. The estimated gross redemption yield is a longer-term picture indicating expected annual total return. This means that in addition to expected cash income, it includes the amortised annual value of unrealised capital gains or losses of bond holdings currently held by the fund, calculated with reference to their current market price and expected redemption value made upon maturity of the bonds. Neither of the yields is guaranteed. Nor do they reflect the fund charges or the entry charge of the fund. Investors may be subject to tax on distributions.
