Quarterly fund commentary

The first three months of 2017 have been a mixed period for euro denominated corporate bonds. High yield bonds outperformed investment grade bonds as better economic data helped boost returns. The improvement in economic data also led to higher government bond yields. Whilst this was negative for bonds with high interest rate sensitivity (duration), such as investment grade corporate bonds, it provided a more profitable interest rate environment for the financial sector. As a result, the banking sector outperformed other areas of the corporate bond market. Index data from Merrill Lynch shows the following returns: euro IG corporate bonds 0.3%, European currency high yield bonds 1.9%, euro financials 0.6% (euro hedged total return). We hold a diversified portfolio of investment grade bonds with a smaller allocation to non-financial corporate high yield bonds. Our preferred sector remains financials with further notable holdings in non-financial hybrid bonds (relatively junior bonds in a company's capital structure). Around 18% of the fund is held in US dollar denominated bonds (hedged back to euro). Given the divergent monetary policies of the US and Europe, these bonds can provide an additional level of income over their European counterparts.

The performance period shown here starts on the last day of the first indicated month and ends on the last day of the last indicated month.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund may hold a large amount of debt instruments which are of lower credit quality and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The risks described herein are the fund specific material risks. For more information please consult the current fund and share class specific Key Investor Information Document (KIID) and for a complete set of risks the current prospectus.

The ongoing charges figure is based on annualised expenses for the period ending 31/08/2016. This figure may vary from year to year. It excludes portfolio transaction costs except in the case of an entry or exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling shares/units in another fund. Please refer to the most up to date relevant fund and share class-specific Key Investor Information Document for more information on our funds. Further information on our products is available in English using the contact details shown. The yields shown are expressed as a % per annum of the current NAV of the fund. They are an estimate for the next 12 months, assuming that the fund's portfolio remains unchanged and there are no defaults or deferrals of coupon payments or capital repayments. Cash income is estimated coupons from bonds. The gross current yield is an indication of the expected cash income over the next 12 months. The estimated gross redemption yield is a longer-term picture indicating expected annual total return. This means that in addition to expected cash income, it includes the amortised annual value of unrealised capital gains or losses of bond holdings currently held by the fund, calculated with reference to their current market price and expected redemption value made upon maturity of the bonds. Neither of the yields is guaranteed. Nor do they reflect the fund charges or the entry charge of the fund. Investors may be subject to tax on distributions. Subscriptions of shares are only accepted on the basis of the most up to date legal offering documents. The legal offering documents (fund & share class specific Key Investor Information Document, prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports, articles and trustee deed) are available free of charge with your local Invesco representative or on our website www.invescoeurope.com.
