Quarterly fund commentary

The fund had a negative return in the final quarter of 2018 reflecting a broader deterioration in market sentiment over the period. Among the factors concerning investors was Italy's proposed budget deficit, Brexit, trade tensions between the US and China, falling crude oil prices and concerns about the pace of US interest rate hikes. Within high yield there was also some specific company volatility with the market penalising weak companies particularly within the retail and consumer services sectors. As was widely expected the European Central Bank ended its corporate bond purchase programme in December. The fund holds a diversified portfolio of investment grade bonds with a smaller allocation to non-financial corporate high yield bonds. Our largest sectoral allocation remains financials with further notable holdings in non-financial hybrid bonds (bonds that have some equity like characteristics). As at 31 December 2018, around 20% of the fund was held in US dollar denominated bonds. Most of the currency exposure from these positions is hedged back to euros.
