Quarterly fund commentary

Global equity markets ended the fourth quarter in negative territory to round off their worst year since the global financial crisis. Investors grew cautious in the face of a cocktail of factors including signs that trade tensions are fuelling a global economic slowdown. Meanwhile, increases in US interest rates have signalled the end of cheap money that has driven a near decade-long bull market for equities. Volatility returned to the global equity markets with stocks dropping to the brink of a bear market in December. The investments of the fund are determined by the outcome of multi-factor models which are based on four factors: Earnings Momentum, Price Momentum, Quality and Value. The fund underperformed its benchmark over the fourth quarter. Momentum-related factors ended the quarter in negative territory. Quality and value factors added to return over the quarter. Stock specific effects were the largest detractors from relative return while the exposure to sectors, countries, and currencies had no meaningful impact on active return.
