Quarterly fund commentary

US economic health has led to further interest rate rises and projected tightening timetable throughout the remainder of 2018. US REITs rallied strongly, led by the higher yielding REITs and appetite for REITs with retail assets. In Europe, the residential and logistics companies continued to perform well driven by their structural tailwinds and above average growth prospects. Asian performance was led by Hong Kong landlord stocks. Mergers and acquisition activity in the US, Europe and Australia remained a theme in the period and lends support to listed real estate company valuations. Global listed real estate ends the period trading at a slightly above average discount to net asset value. Earnings reports issued during the period have offered guidance or provided direction that global average expected earnings growth for 2018 should remain mid-single digit. As at 30 June 2018, the weighted average current yield of the portfolio of underlying security investments was 4.1%, represented by approximately 63% common shares, 13% preferred shares, 20% fixed income and the remainder cash. The weighted average current yields on the fund's common, preferred stock, and fixed income investments were 3.5%, 6.7% and 4.2%, respectively. Please note the fund is not managed with a primary objective of achieving a return relative to the fund's reference index.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. The fund may hold a large amount of Asset Backed Securities (ABS) (complex instruments) as well as other lower quality debt securities which may impact the liquidity of the fund under certain circumstances. The fund may invest in distressed securities which carry a significant risk of capital loss. As this fund is invested in a particular sector, you should be prepared to accept greater fluctuations in the value of the fund than for a fund with a broader investment mandate.
