Quarterly fund commentary

Global corporate bonds continued to perform well despite a late selloff triggered by central bank comments about reducing the amount of economic stimulus the bank is providing. Political uncertainty across Europe abated during the period with the perceived market friendly candidate, Emmanuel Macron beating far right candidate Marine le Pen in the French election to become president. In the US, few details have emerged regarding Trump's policies leading the market to become increasingly sceptical of his effectiveness. Looking ahead, we expect Europe and US growth to continue to come in strong, whilst we see headwinds to Chinese growth later this year due to the tightening of financial conditions. Given the backdrop of strong global growth, stable inflation and well communicated monetary policy tightening we believe credit will remain supported. The fund follows a themed based approach, seeking out relative value opportunities across global corporate bond markets. The fund has a preference for bonds at the lower end of the capital structure. On a regional basis, we believe that Europe is currently the most attractive relative to the US and Asia. However, we have reduced our underweight to US based companies as technical drivers in the market remain very supportive.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund will invest in derivatives (complex instruments) which will result in the fund being leveraged and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund may invest in contingent convertible bonds which may result in significant risk of capital loss based on certain trigger events. The fund may hold a large amount of debt instruments which are of lower credit quality and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The risks described herein are the fund specific material risks. For more information please consult the current fund and share class specific Key Investor Information Document (KIID) and for a complete set of risks the current prospectus.

The ongoing charges figure is based on annualised expenses for the period ending 31/08/2016. This figure may vary from year to year. It excludes portfolio transaction costs except in the case of an entry or exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling shares/units in another fund. Please refer to the most up to date relevant fund and share class-specific Key Investor Information Document for more information on our funds. Further information on our products is available in English using the contact details shown. The yields shown are expressed as a % per annum of the current NAV of the fund. They are an estimate for the next 12 months, assuming that the fund's portfolio remains unchanged and there are no defaults or deferrals of coupon payments or capital repayments. Cash income is estimated coupons from bonds. The gross current yield is an indication of the expected cash income over the next 12 months. The estimated gross redemption yield is a longer-term picture indicating expected annual total return. This means that in addition to expected cash income, it includes the amortised annual value of unrealised capital gains or losses of bond holdings currently held by the fund, calculated with reference to their current market price and expected redemption value made upon maturity of the bonds. Neither of the yields is guaranteed. Nor do they reflect the fund charges or the entry charge of the fund. Investors may be subject to tax on distributions. Subscriptions of shares are only accepted on the basis of the most up to date legal offering documents. The legal offering documents (fund & share class specific Key Investor Information Document, prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports, articles and trustee deed) are available free of charge with your local Invesco representative or on our website www.invescoeurope.com.
