Quarterly fund commentary

The fourth quarter saw further spells of financial market volatility led by continued trade tensions between the US and China, fears of recession, and Brexit concerns. The increased levels of volatility in the market raised demand for the perceived safety of core government bond markets. The US Federal Reserve (the Fed) remained upbeat on the US economy but set out a dovish stance (less aggressive actions) regarding monetary policy toward the end of the year. Fed Chair, Jay Powell reiterated that they would be patient in slowing down its balance sheet reduction programme. The European Central Bank (ECB) reiterated its positive outlook for the Eurozone. However, Mario Draghi, president of the ECB stated that slower growth lies ahead for the Eurozone, reflecting persistently weak data for the region in recent months. Against this macro-economic backdrop, Global corporate bonds underperformed government bonds during the period with investment grade outperforming high yield. At a sector level, performance was mixed across corporate bonds sectors, with services and financials the best performing. The fund follows a themed based approach, seeking out relative value opportunities across global corporate bond markets. We hold a preference for financial bonds versus non-financial bonds. On a regional basis, we believe that Europe is attractive from a fundamental perspective, relative to the US and Asia. We remain more defensive and have a healthy amount of liquidity in the fund to put to work as opportunities to invest in companies with strong fundamentals arise.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund uses derivatives (complex instruments) for investment purposes, which may result in the fund being significantly leveraged and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund may invest in contingent convertible bonds which may result in significant risk of capital loss based on certain trigger events. Investments in debt instruments which are of lower credit quality may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund.

Important Information

¹The minimum investment amounts are: USD 1,000,000 / EUR 800,000 / GBP 600,000 / CHF 1,000,000 / SEK 7,000,000. Please contact us or refer to the most up to date Prospectus for details of minimum investment amounts in other currencies.

²The ongoing charges figure is based on annualised expenses for the period ending August 2018. This figure may vary from year to year. It excludes portfolio transaction costs except in the case of an entry or exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling shares/units in another fund.

This information is available in English using the contact details of the issuer and is without charge. Further information on our products is available using the contact details shown. The yields shown are expressed as a % per annum of the current NAV of the fund. They are an estimate for the next 12 months, assuming that the fund's portfolio remains unchanged and there are no defaults or deferrals of coupon payments or capital repayments. Cash income is estimated coupons from bonds. The gross current yield is an indication of the expected cash income over the next 12 months. The estimated gross redemption yield is a longer-term picture indicating expected annual total return. This means that in addition to expected cash income, it includes the amortised annual value of unrealised capital gains or losses of bond holdings currently held by the fund, calculated with reference to their current market price and expected redemption value made upon maturity of the bonds. Neither of the yields is guaranteed. Nor do they reflect the fund charges or the entry charge of the fund. Investors may be subject to tax on distributions. Subscriptions of shares are only accepted on the basis of the most up to date legal offering documents. The legal offering documents (fund & share class specific Key Investor Information Document, prospectus, annual and semi-annual reports, articles and trustee deed) are available free of charge with your local Invesco representative or on our website www.invescoeurope.com.
