Quarterly fund commentary

Global equity markets ended the fourth quarter in negative territory to round off their worst year since the global financial crisis. Investors grew cautious in the face of a cocktail of factors including signs that trade tensions are fuelling a global economic slowdown. Meanwhile, increases in US interest rates have signalled the end of cheap money that has driven a near decade-long bull market for equities. The fund concentrates on stocks with attractive risk-return profiles as identified by a systematic investment process which is based on four factors: Earnings Momentum, Price Momentum, Quality and Value. This approach can lead to active positions relative to the benchmark; currency exposures are strategically hedged. Looking at the performance attribution for the fourth quarter, the portfolio performance was ahead of the index. While the overweight in smaller sized companies weighed on active return the contribution from quality and value factors was positive. The implicit sector allocation contributed positively as well. Overweight positions in gold and precious metals stocks which serve as good diversifiers helped performance in a challenging market environment.
