Quarterly fund commentary

European equity markets advanced in Q4. The market surge was particularly noticeable post-Italian referendum in December. Following the vote, investors regained confidence amid increased talks of fiscal stimulus globally. Cyclical sectors (more sensitive to economic cycles) continued to perform strongly, reversing the trend observed in the early months of 2016 where deflationary fears dominated investment decisions. On the macroeconomic front, the European Central Bank (ECB) decided to extend its quantitative easing (QE) programme by 9-months, to the end of 2017 or beyond if necessary, and to reduce the amount of monthly purchases starting from April 2017 onwards, from €80b to €60b. The move was seen as simultaneously dovish (QE extension) and hawkish (QE pace reduction), allowing the ECB to initiate a taper but without the tantrum that accompanied a similar action by the US Federal Reserve back in 2013, and to continue providing favourable financial conditions for economic growth in Europe. The fund's strategy is driven by fundamental stock-picking with a focus on valuation. We aim to take advantage of inefficiencies in the market and capitalize on stocks with valuation anomalies. As at period-end, financials stood as the largest overweight sector relative to the benchmark and consumer staples the biggest underweight sector.
