Quarterly fund commentary

The last three months have been difficult for the Pan European equity markets as investor sentiment continues to worsen. Trade tensions, lower than expected economic data, falling oil prices, widening credit spreads, and an array of unfinished political business have contributed to a rising sense of fear in the financial markets and increasingly volatile trading sessions. Within the fund, Communication Services was a standout performer followed by Health Care. While Materials and Consumer Staples were the largest detractors. Whilst we can sympathise with the notion that the economic clouds are somewhat darker than at the start of 2018, we are not subscribers to the notion of economic Armageddon. It is easy to be influenced by all the gloomy headlines. Growth is slower in Europe in part for temporary reasons, but we are not in recession and we do not think that this is likely in 2019. These issues are dominating short term trading - which we suspect is being exacerbated by index-tracking funds - and on that basis we believe they are overstated when holding a long-term view. Our strategy remains focused on companies with what we view as attractive valuations, having the potential to pay and grow dividends, and deliver capital appreciation.
