Quarterly fund commentary

Continental European equity markets remained broadly flat in Q4. In 2017, European equities posted their best returns since 2013. Europe ended the year on strong footing as economic activity continued to expand at healthy levels in both the manufacturing and services sectors. The eurozone unemployment rate continued its decline in Q4, to the lowest in almost nine years, further underpinning domestic demand. Against such a backdrop, the European Central Bank (ECB) announced its first steps towards reducing stimulus measures after years of very accommodative policies, cutting monthly asset purchases by half starting from January 2018. However, with pricing pressures remaining subdued, the ECB extended its quantitative easing programme by another nine months to allow inflation to build up further. In our view, continued growth in domestic demand and falling unemployment in the Eurozone suggest mounting core inflationary pressures as we move through 2018. Exposure to the healthcare sector was raised in Q4, easing the underweight position relative to the FTSE World Europe ex-UK Index benchmark. Meanwhile, some holdings within the industrials sector were trimmed after a period of strong performance in line with our valuation discipline. At quarter-end, oil & gas remained the largest overweight sector relative to the benchmark and consumer goods the biggest underweight sector.
