LA FRANCAISE JKC Asia Equity

A sub-fund of JKC Fund Class P USD LU0611874560

The Fund is managed by: La Française AM International, part of La Française AM group of companies

Objectives and Investment Policy

Objective To increase the value of your investment over the long term, by providing above-average returns with below-average volatility (changes in the value of your investment).

Portfolio Securities Under normal conditions, the Sub-Fund mainly invests in shares of companies that are based in, operate in, or do significant business in Asia (excluding Japan). The Sub-Fund may invest up to 50% of assets in China A Shares, either through Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect or through other means. The Sub-Fund may also invest in bank deposits and money market instruments.

The Sub-Fund may use derivatives to reduce its exposure to various investment risks (hedging) and for efficient portfolio management, but not to directly seek investment gains.

Investment Process The investment manager uses economic data to determine how much to invest in each country. The investment manager then seeks individual companies that have a history of paying regular dividends and whose shares appear undervalued.

Designed For Investors who understand the fund's risks and who have an investment horizon of at least 7 years.

Sub-Fund Reference Currency USD

You can place orders to buy or sell Sub-Fund shares at any time.

The Sub-Fund issues only accumulation shares (shares in which any income earned is added to the share price).

Terms to Understand

Derivatives Financial instruments whose value is linked to one or more rates, indexes, share prices or other values.

Money market instruments Investments designed to provide interest, liquidity, and a stable value.

Shares Securities that represent a share in the business results of a company.

Risk and Reward Profile

The value of an investment in the Sub-Fund can go up and down. When you sell your shares, they may be worth less than what you paid for them. If your currency as an investor is different from the subscription currency of the Sub-Fund, changes in currency exchange rates could reduce any investment gains or increase any investment losses.

The risk/reward rating above is based on medium-term volatility (actual or estimated variations in the Sub-Fund's share price over five years). Going forward, the Sub-Fund's actual volatility could be lower or higher, and its rated risk/reward level may be changed.

The Sub-Fund's risk level reflects the following factors:

- As a class, shares carry higher risks than bonds or money market instruments.
- The Sub-Fund focuses on a single geographical region that tends to have above-average risks.

The rating does not reflect the possible effects of unusual market conditions or large unpredictable events, which could amplify everyday risks and could trigger other risks, such as:

Counterparty risk The Sub-Fund could lose money if an entity with which it does business becomes unwilling or unable to honor its commitments to the Sub-Fund.

Derivatives risk Certain derivatives could increase Sub-Fund volatility or expose the Sub-Fund to losses greater than the cost of the derivative.

Liquidity risk Certain securities could become hard to value, or to sell at a desired time and price.

Management risk Portfolio management techniques that have worked well in normal market conditions could prove ineffective or detrimental during unusual conditions.

Operational risk In any market, but especially in emerging markets, the fund could lose some or all of its money through a failure in asset safekeeping or through fraud, corruption, political actions or any other unexpected events.

China A-Shares risk The Sub-Fund may be investing in China A-Shares via the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect which may entail additional clearing and settlement, regulatory, operational and counterparty risks.

Investors should refer to the prospectus for further details on the risks.
