Quarterly fund commentary

For 2017 overall, Eurozone equities saw strong returns amid a robust economic expansion and a go-slow approach toward monetary-stimulus withdrawal. On the macroeconomic front, the euro-area ended the year on strong footing. The Eurozone consumer confidence indicator rose to the highest level in more than a decade, reflecting the positive economic backdrop. The fund concentrates on stocks with attractive risk-return profiles as identified by a systematic investment process which is based on four concepts: Earnings Expectations, Market Sentiment, Management & Quality and Value. This approach can lead to very active positions relative to the benchmark. Looking at the performance attribution for the fourth quarter, the portfolio's stock selection was a positive driver of the outperformance. While our momentum related factor Earnings Expectations added to performance, value and price momentum factors detracted. Moreover, the overweight in smaller sized companies helped. The implicit sector allocation contributed positively with the industrials overweight and a financials underweight adding the most. Coming into the fourth quarter, the fund's largest allocation remains in industrials and consumer discretionary.
