Quarterly fund commentary

India was the best performing market in Asia over the quarter, achieving a positive total return of +11.8%. This rally was driven by the favourable outlook for earnings and the economy. Confidence in the long-term benefits of the government's bold reforms, such as the new goods and services tax (GST) roll-out, has lifted market sentiment. Macroeconomic indicators, including the manufacturing PMI and consumption data, pointed towards a robust domestic economy. All sectors posted positive returns in Q4, with the largest gains from the telecommunication and consumer discretionary sectors. Investors were upbeat about pricing and sector consolidation which will enable major telecom operators to gain market share and expand margins. Indian auto stocks also rose on strong domestic automobile sales after consumer sentiment and the unemployment rate improved notably throughout the quarter. In terms of investment strategy, we continued to identify business franchises that can deliver steady and above average earnings growth over business cycles. We focused on companies with superior business models, industry leadership, competitive advantages and reasonable valuations. Our bottom-up stock selection led to a tilt towards the consumption, financials and industrials sectors over the energy, information technology and telecommunication services sectors.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. As a large portion of the fund is invested in less developed countries, you should be prepared to accept significantly large fluctuations of the value of the fund. As this fund is invested in a particular geographical region, you should be prepared to accept greater fluctuations of the value of the fund than for a fund with a broader investment mandate.
