Quarterly fund commentary

The fourth quarter saw further spells of financial market volatility led by continued trade tensions between the US and China, fears of recession, and Brexit concerns. The increased levels of volatility in the market raised demand for the perceived safety of core government bond markets. The European Central Bank (ECB) reiterated its positive outlook for the Eurozone. However, Mario Draghi, president of the ECB stated that slower growth lies ahead for the eurozone, reflecting persistently weak data for the region in recent months. The ECB also announced the end of its €2.3tn quantitative easing (QE) programme, and that the ECB's policy interest rates would remain at their current levels until at least the summer of 2019. Against this macro-economic backdrop, European government bonds outperformed European corporate bonds during the period. European investment grade bonds outperformed European high yield. Performance was negative across all European corporate bonds sectors. Corporate bonds are a core component and we remain positive on euro investment grade corporate bonds with a preference for BBB rated bonds. In addition, the fund has an allocation to UK and US corporate bonds with currency exposure hedged to euro. Positioning has been more defensive as geopolitical disruptions have increased therefore the level of cash in the fund has been allowed to rise. This stands ready to be put to work as opportunities to invest in companies with strong fundamentals arise. We remain active in euro peripheral sovereign bonds (non-core) but see little value at this juncture.

Risk Warnings

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund uses derivatives (complex instruments) for investment purposes, which may result in the fund being significantly leveraged and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund.

Important Information

¹The minimum investment amounts are: USD 1,500 / EUR 1,000 / GBP 1,000 / CHF 1,500 / SEK 10,000. Please contact us or refer to the most up to date Prospectus for details of minimum investment amounts in other currencies.

²As a result of the introduction of a material change in the fee structure, the ongoing charges figure is estimated based on the expected total of charges. This figure may vary from year to year. It excludes portfolio transaction costs except in the case of an entry or exit charge paid by the Fund when buying or selling shares/units in another fund.

The yields shown are expressed as a % per annum of the current NAV of the fund. They are an estimate for the next 12 months, assuming that the fund's portfolio remains unchanged and there are no defaults or deferrals of coupon payments or capital repayments. Cash income is estimated coupons from bonds. The gross current yield is an indication of the expected cash income over the next 12 months. The estimated gross redemption yield is a longer-term picture indicating expected annual total return. This means that in addition to expected cash income, it includes the amortised annual value of unrealised capital gains or losses of bond holdings currently held by the fund, calculated with reference to their current market price and expected redemption value made upon maturity of the bonds. Neither of the yields is guaranteed. Nor do they reflect the fund charges or the entry charge of the fund. Investors may be subject to tax on distributions.
