Quarterly fund commentary

The final quarter of 2017 was an active period for Central Banks. The US Federal Reserve began to reduce the level of assets on its balance sheet, the European Central Bank announced it intended to reduce the rate of its asset purchase programme from January 2018 and the Bank of England hiked Bank Rate by 0.25%. Despite this backdrop of reduced central bank support, government bonds delivered positive returns with the Gilt market the highest returning of the core markets. This reflected the fact that the policy changes had all been widely communicated in advance. The strong Gilt performance was in part a result of dovish statements that accompanied the hike and the UK government's agreement with the European Union on the first phase of the Brexit negotiations. Overall positioning remains defensive with high exposure to liquidity through cash and other liquid assets including government bonds. Our preferred sector within corporate bond markets remains financials. We also have an allocation to high yield bonds focused on issuers that we consider carry a lower risk of default. Given the current higher level of yield available in the US bond market, we hold a number of US dollar denominated bonds.
