Quarterly fund commentary

Emerging markets (EM) corporate bonds returned 0.68% for the quarter, as measured by the J.P. Morgan CEMBI Broad Diversified Index. EM corporate spreads tightened 9 bps to end the quarter at 232 bps. Returns were positive across all regions led by African and Latin America. Returns were broadly positive across sectors led by Metals & Mining and Oil & Gas, while Consumer lagged. Emerging Markets posted another quarter of positive total returns, amid low volatility in developed markets rates and stable to improving prices across a variety of commodities. Adding to those supportive elements were continued inflows into EM, and lighter new issuance at the end of the year. While the current backdrop of stable global growth, low inflation, and accommodative financial conditions are supportive of EM asset prices there have been an increase in idiosyncratic stories; especially from the Middle East. Recent moves higher in commodity prices are also supportive of EM markets. While the macro backdrop remains supportive for EM we are monitoring geopolitical events in the Middle East, NAFTA negotiations, and upcoming elections in Latin America closely. We continue to see supportive global financial conditions in spite of the Fed beginning to unwind its balance sheet.

The fund may invest in distressed securities which carry a significant risk of capital loss. As a large portion of the fund is invested in less developed countries, you should be prepared to accept significantly large fluctuations of the value of the fund.
